Overview: In the municipality of Pizarra stands this typically Spanish finca with two independent living spaces with a range of possibilities, including operating a bed and breakfast or Airbnb. A 15-minute drive from the centre of Pizarra, you reach the finca over a largely paved, - and a partly unpaved, easily accessible road. The property is situated on a plot of 63,766 m² where, among other things, six permaculture terraces have been created. A large variety of Fruit trees such as: olive, -, carob, -, orange, -, fig, -, pomegranate, -, jujube, -, mulberry, -, peacan nut, -, Guava, -, Almond trees and vines grow on the property. Paths have been laid across the property in such a way that accessibility on foot or by vehicle is guaranteed throughout the property. At the front of the property are two insulated containers with an air-conditioning system intended for guest rental. There are also two garages and a carport, a ladies, - and men's toilet and a communal shower. Behind the house is a tiny house (currently serving as storage), a third garage, a chicken coop and a dovecote for 70 nests. There is a greenhouse and a vegetable garden has also been planted. There are two legal water wells, one of which is 50 metres deep. A two water deposits of 15,000 litres and 70,000 litres respectively and a water basin of 20m² and 20,000 litres capacity. Several more water deposits and storage areas are located near the house. The house has a dozen solar panels with four batteries and a separate solar water heater for hot water. There is also a grid connection. Throughout the grounds and around the house, there are beautiful spots and terraces where you can enjoy huge wide views. Of the land, 44,000 m² is fenced. Behind the house is a pizza oven and an outdoor kitchen that is covered by the veranda, which extends the entire width of the house. Here there is also a storage room with a toilet and access to the house. On the other side of the veranda is another storage room and a second access to the house. This part of the house has a ground-floor bathroom with shower, a living room with open stairs to the first floor, a dining room and a lower-level kitchen which gives the interior playfulness. The kitchen has a large fireplace and can be modernised as desired, with minimal modifications. On the first floor of this house are two bedrooms and a small bathroom. The second house has been recently renovated. It has two double bedrooms and a spacious bathroom on the first floor. The ground floor has a two-bedroom, a bathroom, a living room and a kitchen. From the kitchen, you enter a storage room with a large refrigerator for food items. Both properties have an independent entrance and there is a lockable connecting door between them. The property has a tourist licence and is currently operating as an Airbnb. It is a 45-minute drive from both Malaga airport and the beaches of the Costa del Sol. There are good public transport connections from Pizarra of both bus, - and train connection to Malaga city. In this place you will find all the peace and quiet yet with all the necessities such as schools, supermarkets, shops, restaurants and a health centre within easy reach.
